With a number of security features we protect our dental cements against counterfeiting. Original Hoffmann's Cements can be identified by the following features:

- banderole fulfilling a dual purpose as originality seal and information strap. LOT number and expiry date are imprinted on one side. On the other side one can find the number of the cement colour (colours 01–15).
- microtext extremely small text which becomes readable under a magnifying-glass only has been placed into the background of the portrait.
- ultraviolet lacquer the packaging of the cement is bi-lingual – German on one side and English on the opposite side. The background of the portrait on the English side is coated with security lacquer. Illuminated by an ultraviolet lamp the background turns green.
- protective lacquer the light-coloured lower part of the folded box is coated with protective lacquer in which the writing Hoffmann's is incorporated. Resembling a water mark or embossing the writing becomes visible by back light or a streak of light respectively.
